

Virginia Foundation for Independent Colleges

The mission of the Virginia Foundation for Independent Colleges (VFIC) is to "... secure private-sector financial support in order to advance and perpetuate the distinctive values and strengths of the undergraduate education in member independent colleges and universities of Virginia, thereby facilitating and enhancing the development of tomorrow's citizen leaders."

Since its inception in 1952, the VFIC has provided an extra margin of quality to the fifteen-member institutions in Virginia. It is important to recognize this significant contribution as well as the contribution from the outstanding leaders of the Virginia business community. Total gifts and endowment payouts for this past year produced $3.1 million, which was distributed to the member colleges. In 2004-05, Lynchburg College received $126,652 as its share, bringing its cumulative total to $8,270,742. Space does not permit an entire listing of all contributors to VFIC; however, Lynchburg College gratefully acknowledges the following donors who have given a cumulative contribution of $1 million or more to the VFIC and to the companies, foundations, and individuals who provided contributions of $5,000 or more to VFIC in fiscal year 2004-05:
