

FINANCIAL AID

Financial aid is available to qualified full- and part-time graduate students in the forms of state grants and long-term loans. (A half-time load is six semester hours. A full-time load in a graduate degree program is nine hours.) Virginia residents enrolled as full-time graduate students who are pursuing health services programs may qualify for a Virginia Tuition Assistance Grant (VTAG) regardless of financial need. VTAG is a state grant, the amount of which is based on state funding. Application must be made directly to the Office of Financial Aid. A strict July 31 application deadline applies.

The Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) should be completed and mailed to the Federal Student Aid Programs as soon after January 1 as possible for consideration for need-based financial aid. The preferred deadline for new students is March 1, and the preferred deadline for continuing students is April 1. New students admitted after March 1 should submit the FAFSA as soon as possible to receive consideration for assistance.

The Federal Stafford Loan Program, administered through banking institutions, offers long-term student loans. The interest rate is variable with a cap of 8.25 percent. Money borrowed for educational purposes through the Stafford Loan program does not have to be repaid until the student graduates or ceases half-time enrollment. Repayment may be deferred if the student is experiencing economic hardship.

Persons who have already earned a master's degree at Lynchburg College and seek to take additional master's-level courses or pursue a second master's degree may apply for a tuition voucher equivalent to 50 percent of the tuition for one class every year. Eligible persons should contact the Office of Graduate Studies.

Other forms of financial assistance are also available as noted below. Further information on the honorees for these scholarships is available in the College's endowment funds booklet. For specific information, please contact the Office of Graduate Studies. Annual application review begins after April 15.
