

POLITICAL SCIENCE COURSES (POLI)

POLI 111-112 THE QUEST FOR JUSTICE I, II (3, 3) A sequence of readings and discussions develop the student's grasp of the basic issues that underlie the political dynamism of Western society. Special emphasis is given to the moral and philosophical dimensions of these issues and their relationship to current political questions and the concerns of other academic disciplines. Reading, class discussions, and written assignments are drawn from classic works in politics, economics, philosophy, and literature.

POLI 207 COMPARATIVE POLITICS (3) An introduction to political cultures and systems around the world, with emphasis on political behavior, competing ideologies, government institutions, and historical roots and contemporary manifestations of societal conflicts and divisions. Issues of political development, continuity and change will be addressed throughout the course, with brief case studies used to explore the above concepts more in depth.

POLI 220 THE AMERICAN POLITICAL EXPERIENCE (3) Students will explore the American constitutional order and political system in terms of two questions: what does the American government do? What should it do? This exploration will be conducted through the critical analysis of literature, primary historical sources, significant government documents, and social science research.

POLI 221            AMERICAN POLITICAL CULTURE (3) Prerequisite: INTL 101, POLI 111, or 112. This course is a survey and critique of the meanings attributed to various aspects of the American constitutional order and the politics associated with it. Classic American literature including fiction and non-fiction, films, primary historical sources, significant government documents, and social science research are assigned to promote student debate and discussion of each aspect of the course.

POLI 253            CLASSICAL POLITICAL THOUGHT (3) Prerequisite: INTL 101, POLI 111, or 112. This course is a study of the leading classical and medieval political thinkers including Plato, Aristotle, and Augustine with emphasis on reading and discussing their works.

POLI 254            MODERN POLITICAL THOUGHT (3) Prerequisite: INTL 101, POLI 111, or 112. This course is a study of the leading modern political thinkers including Machiavelli, Hobbes, Locke, Rousseau, and Marx with emphasis on reading and discussing their works.

POLI 257            CAMPAIGNS, ELECTIONS, AND PROPAGANDA (3) Prerequisite: INTL 101, POLI 111, or 112. This course reviews the place of elections in American constitutional order as the principal mode of citizen participation and of campaigns to influence those elections. Particular attention is given to contemporary reliance on paid advertising, including direct mailing and television, and questions of campaign finance and corruption. Critical attention is directed to the replacement of public policy debate by the images and rhetoric of celebrity culture.

POLI 258            STATE AND LOCAL GOVERNMENT AND POLITICS (3) Prerequisite: INTL 101, POLI 111, or 112. An examination of the use of governmental power influences daily life in often unrecognized ways and how that power is exercised by administrators. Particular attention will be given to situations that appear to display breakdowns in policy or in its execution, and on conflicting values of democratic political practice and administrative effectiveness.

POLI 259            POWER, THE STATE, AND BUREAUCRACY (3) Prerequisite: INTL 101, POLI 111, or 112. An examination of how the use of governmental power influences daily life in often unrecognized ways and how that power is exercised by administrators. Particular attention will be given to situations that appear to display breakdowns in policy or in its execution and on conflicting values of democratic political practice and administrative effectiveness.

POLI 260            HONOR AND TERROR POLITICS: SOUTH ASIA (3) Prerequisite: INTL 101, POLI 111, or 112. This course is a survey of contemporary political and governmental processes and institutions of southern Asia with particular attention given to the colonial legacy, post-independence political institutions, the processes of political evolution, the role of religion in politics, and foreign policy responses to big-power rivalry in the region.

POLI 265            GROWLING TIGERS, FIERY DRAGONS: THE ASIA PACIFIC (3) Prerequisite: INTL 101, POLI 111, or 112. This course offers a survey of the political traditions and contemporary political practice of major East Asian societies including those of China, Japan, and Korea. The primary focus is a comparison of contemporary political development, government institutions, domestic issues, and foreign policies within and among the countries of the region.

POLI 275            LATIN AMERICAN POLITICS (3) Prerequisite: INTL 101, POLI 111, or 112. An analysis of the political systems of Latin America, this course examines political development from the colonial period to the present as well as the principal actors of the Catholic Church, the military, labor, and political parties. Study of links between politics and economic underdevelopment and the influence of the United States in the region are included. The history and future of democracy in the region are considered.

POLI 283            EUROPEAN UNION POLITICS (3) Prerequisite: INTL 101, POLI 111, or 112. This course analyzes the governmental structures and politics in France, Germany, and other European nations. Attention is also given to European organizations such as NATO, the European Union (EU), and the reforming political systems in southern and eastern Europe. Students participate in a simulation of the European Union.

POLI 285 EUROPEAN UNION LEADERSHIP (1) Prerequisites: POLI 283 and permission of instructor. The course offers an in-depth exploration of the functions, institutions, and decision-making procedures of the European Union. The emphasis will be on a realistic representation of members of the major institutions and bodies of the EU: the Commission, the European Council, and the Council of Ministers.

POLI 290 AMERICAN PUBLIC POLICY (3) Prerequisite: POLI 111 or 112. This course will examine American public policy from three perspectives. First, students will explore the broad context of policy-making, including the historical, political, and economic contexts, with special emphasis placed on American federalism. Second, students will be introduced to models of the policy process, agenda setting and decision-making. Finally, students will learn about policy implementation and analysis.

POLI 296 RUSSIA AND THE EUROPEAN NEIGHBORHOOD (3) Prerequisites: INTL 101, POLI 112 or POLI 201. The course analyzes the political cultures, governmental institutions, and political behavior in European countries that are not members of the European Union, mostly in Eastern and Southeastern Europe, especially Russia. The emphasis is on explaining contemporary developments in this rapidly evolving region against the backdrop of long-term trends and recent transitions. Russia's growing role in the region and around the globe will be discussed.

POLI 301 DEVELOPING WORLD (3) Prerequisite: INTL 101, POLI 111, or 112. This course provides an examination of developing nations with a view toward understanding problems inherent in social, economic, and political change including the creation of nationalist sentiments, calls for democracy, improving the conditions of life, and promoting security and stability.

POLI 303 TERRORISM AND REVOLUTION (3) Prerequisite: INTL 101, POLI 111, or 112. This course is a comparative analysis of two major forms of political violence. Major revolutions of the twentieth century are the focus with particular attention to the Communist revolutions in Russia and China, the anti-colonial revolutions in Vietnam and Algeria, and the recent democratic revolutions in Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union. Theories and explanations of terrorism are explored with attention given to the ways terrorists and the media influence each other and to various proposals for controlling terrorism.

POLI 304 INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATION AND WORLD POLITICS (3) Prerequisite: INTL 101, POLI 111, or 112. This course examines the role of international organizations in world affairs. Study includes the United Nations, major regional political and economic organizations, and the impact of non-governmental international organizations. Current events are heavily emphasized. The course is also used to prepare students for model United Nations exercises.

POLI 306 COMPARATIVE FOREIGN POLICY (3) Prerequisite: INTL 101, POLI 111, or 112. This course investigates the development, determinants, and direction of the foreign policies of key nation-states in contemporary international relations including Russia, Germany, China, India, Japan, and the United States. The course includes simulation exercises and is used to help prepare students for participation in model United Nations activities.

POLI 311 THE AMERICAN PRESIDENCY (3) Prerequisite: INTL 101, POLI 111, or 112. This course explores the formal and informal powers of the American presidency in the American constitutional system. Students examine presidential elections; White House relationships with Congress, the public, the media, the courts, and the bureaucracy; and the practice of presidential leadership at home and abroad.

POLI 312 MONEY AND POWER: CONGRESS AND INTEREST GROUPS (3) Prerequisite: POLI 111, 112, or 220. This course will examine the constitutional foundation and historical development of Congress, with emphasis on institutional aspects of Congress, and the role of Congress in the legislative process, and electoral politics. The history of interest group politics, the effect these groups have on the legislative process, and the impact of these groups on democracy will also be treated.

POLI 321 POLITICAL SCIENCE RESEARCH METHODS (3) Prerequisite: POLI 220. This junior-level course prepares students to write their senior theses. Required of all political science majors, the course examines how disciplined political knowledge (political science) is developed and reported. Students learn to develop and test hypotheses, prepare research designs, collect data, and use statistical analysis.

POLI 325-326 CONSTITUTIONAL LAW IN THE UNITED STATES (3, 3) Prerequisite: INTL 101, POLI 111, or 112. This course sequence is a survey of constitutional interpretation by the U.S. Supreme Court using the case method. The structure and powers of the American governmental system will be treated during the first semester. The second semester is devoted to the study of individual rights.

POLI 331-332 NATIONAL MODEL UNITED NATIONS I, II (3, 2) Prerequisites: INTL 101, POLI 111, or 112, and permission of the instructor. This course provides a survey of the United Nations and of the designated UN member state assigned for representation at the National Model United Nations in New York, by preparing students in an Experiential Learning course, with researching the assigned country's history, economics, politics and foreign policy, while learning UN policymaking procedure, negotiation, writing, debating and caucusing skills.

POLI 340 INDEPENDENT STUDY IN POLITICAL SCIENCE (1-3) Prerequisite: POLI 220. For independent study credit, a student may undertake specialized reading, research, and writing, but only with approval in advance from the supervising instructor.

POLI 362 RECENT POLITICAL THOUGHT (3) Prerequisite: INTL 101, POLI 111, or 112. This course examines some of the leading political thinkers of the twentieth century in order to understand the difficulties that may stand in the way of achieving justice in the political sphere. We will examine how justice may be achieved within a liberal political order; how the demands of justice impact the family; whether justice can be confined to the political sphere, or whether it must apply also within the private; and possible limitations of liberal democratic conceptions of justice.

POLI 372 UNITED STATES FOREIGN POLICY (3) Prerequisite: INTL 101, POLI 111, or 112. This course examines the distinctive heritage of the United States in foreign affairs, the strengths and weaknesses of American foreign policy-making processes, and the means at the disposal of policymakers to carry out foreign policy in contemporary world affairs.

POLI 375 U. S. - LATIN AMERICAN RELATIONS (3) Prerequisite: INTL 101, POLI 111, or 112. An examination of relations between the countries of Latin America and the United States, this course considers the historical influence of the United States on Latin American countries' political, social, and economic development and how these relations have changed from Latin American independence to present-day. It includes analysis of current topics such as immigration, NAFTA, and the growing Hispanic influence within the United States society and politics.

POLI 377 STUDY ABROAD (1-6) Prerequisite: INTL 101, POLI 110, 111, or 112. The course provides students the opportunity to study political science concepts, principles, and theories in foreign settings.

POLI 397 INDEPENDENT STUDY IN POLITICAL SCIENCE (1-3) Prerequisites: Approval of faculty sponsor and school dean; junior or senior standing. This course provides students the opportunity to pursue individual study of topics not covered in other available courses. The area for investigation is developed in consultation with a faculty sponsor and credit is dependent on the nature of the work. May be repeated for no more than six credits.

POLI 398 SPECIAL TOPICS IN POLITICAL SCIENCE (1-3) [credit depends on topic] Prerequisite: A background of work in the discipline. This course will focus on an aspect of the discipline not otherwise covered by the regularly offered courses. The topic will vary according to professor and term; consequently, more than one may be taken by a student during his/her matriculation.

POLI 399 INTERNSHIP (1-6) Prerequisites: Juniors or seniors with a 2.25 minimum QPA; approval of written proposal by internship coordinator, and supervising faculty prior to registration. In a small number of cases, students may earn credit for participation in an internship with a government agency, law firm, political campaign, or nonprofit organization. Limited internship opportunities are available and must be jointly directed by a faculty sponsor and the responsible agency administrator. (See "Internships.")

POLI 410 SENIOR THESIS SEMINAR (3) Prerequisites: POLI 220, 321, and at least two other 300-level courses. The senior seminar is designed to be a capstone course in which the student, utilizing substantive and methodological knowledge accumulated through previous course work, develops and tests a relevant political hypothesis or closely related set of hypotheses. The course culminates with the writing and presentation of a formal research paper.
