Laura Marello is the author of 12 books, including "Gauguin's Moon" (2019) and her debut novel "Claiming Kin" (2010), which was a finalist for the Paterson Prize in Fiction and nominated for the PEN/Bingham Award. She has been awarded a National Endowment for the Arts grant, a Wallace E. Stegner Fellowship at Stanford University, and a Fine Arts Work Center Provincetown Fellowship.

Praise for "Gauguin's Moon":

"Laura Marello's latest novel seethes with an intoxicating blend of wit, pathos, and hilarity that keeps us laughing even as it confronts us with disturbing truths — both personal and political."

— Constance Solari, author of "Sophie's Fire"
