FEATURED WESTOVER: KATELYN LLOYD

Katelyn is a Sophomore Sociology major with a minor in Gender Studies from Lynchburg, VA. Katelyn has plans to go to graduate school to get a degree in counseling so that she can one day become a sex therapist.

When not in class, Katelyn is usually doing service within the Lynchburg community. She is a Bonner leader and brother of Alpha Phi Omega. She is also Vice President of GirlLove, a new club on campus that focuses on empowering women. She points out that even though service can be hard sometimes, it is nice to know that she is helping to make a difference.

When asked what she likes about Westover, Katelyn says, "I have met some of my best friends because of Westover, and I don't know where I would be without the connections I have made with my peers and professors. I love the challenges Westover brings and think they make me a stronger student."

A TRIP TO RICHMOND

A group of 75 women from 14 different schools gathered for the VFIC Women's Leadership Development Summit in Richmond, VA. The conference was focused on empowering women in leadership roles with workshops on networking, building useful career skills, preventing workplace harassment, and personal and professional wellness. It brought together women leaders from 14 different schools to connect over their experiences.

Westover fellows Bea Kelly-Russo, Mary King, Lilla Oliver, Addy Weaver, Katie Vest and Madi Rechenberg attended as representatives of University of Lynchburg. In addition to attending the conference, they also took tours of the city, Altria, and Dominion Energy.

Madi explains how she enjoyed having the opportunity to meet other female leaders from different schools. Katie expressed similar thoughts as she pointed out how she appreciated the wide variety of applicable topics. She felt that they left them better prepared for their futures as leaders in the workplace.
