Featured Westover: Dan Friedberg

Dan Friedberg is a Senior Economics Major with a Minor in Mathematics. From Blacksburg, Virginia, Dan loves music and enjoys hiking. He played on the Varsity Soccer team as a center mid, and is a PASS leader for intro Economics courses.

After he graduates, Dan plans to earn a PhD in Economics and become a professor. This summer he will be working at an internship in Richmond with the Henrico Economic Development Authority. Dan says he chose to study Economics because of its application to a broad range of topics and its ability to bring about social justice.

Dan feels that Westover has challenged the way he thinks and how he learns. It introduced him to topics that he never thought he would find interest in.

The Student Opportunity Center

EVERYTHING YOU NEED TO KNOW

Earlier this semester, Dr. DeClair promoted the Student Opportunity Center through emails and on moodle. Like many Westover students, you might have overlooked it, or put it off to check out another time when you were less busy. Well it is now the end of the semester, you are probably still busy, and this resource lies inactive deep in the forgotten timeline of your inbox.

The Student Opportunity Center is worth the short amount of time it takes to log in and set up. The SOC gives Westover Fellows access to a wide variety of internships, conference opportunities, as well as publication outlets. It is a national data base that only Westover Fellows have access to at the University of Lynchburg. It is a subscription service that is used by elite Honors Programs and institutions across the country. It is searchable by opportunity, by academic major, and by geographic location.

In other words, if you have been looking for an internship, if you want more ways to network or connect with professionals in your field, or even if you are just looking for a conference that might interest you, the SOC can easily connect you to these opportunities in your area.

To get started, search your inbox for an email from account@studentopportunitycenter.com from back in January. From here, you can activate the account that has already been set up in your name.
